

Gene Engineering: An Unfolding Disaster

Watch and Share This Short Video on Why We Must Stop the Weaponization of Viruses and Other Pathogens

Absent from most of the day-to-day mainstream coverage of pandemic-related issues is the life-or-death conversation we should be having: How do we make sure that this — or something much worse — never happens again?

Watch the video here: <https://orgcns.org/swpvid>

Heart of Freedom Video

Even though the pandemic is starting to wind down and the Supreme Court has partly blocked the Biden mandates, the fear-mongers and Big Pharma are still hard at work.

Please watch this inspiring video and encourage everyone you know to attend the national March in NYC on Jan. 23.

Watch the video here: <https://orgcns.org/3avhNfD>

SARS-CoV-2 Was Genetically Engineered

There is now a growing consensus, not only among the public, but also among independent scientists and investigators (i.e. those not receiving government, military, or Big Pharma money) that the SARS-CoV-2 virus not only escaped from a dual-use (military and biomedical) lab in Wuhan, China, but that a strategic section of the spike protein of the virus (the furin cleavage site) was genetically engineered. Scientists in the US and China genetically engineered (and patented their gain-of-function work) so as to enable a previously non-transmissible bat coronavirus to enter into human cells and replicate, with early variants (before Omicron) posing a significant threat to the elderly and those suffering from serious chronic diseases or comorbidities.

Read more: <https://orgcns.org/3a5IFRK>

Monsanto/Bayer's Glyphosate Residues Found in 99% of France's Population

Sustainable Pulse reports:

"In one of the largest studies on glyphosate contamination in a human population, the world's most used weedkiller was found in over 99% of the general public in France, with a total of over 6,800 urine samples having been tested... The authors of this new study note that the samples taken in spring and summer, the season for glyphosate and other herbicide spraying, showed 'significantly higher levels.' Farmers, especially 'working in a wine-growing environment,' also had 'significantly higher' levels. "Levels were also higher in men and children, people who regularly consume tap or spring water, smokers and drinkers of beer or juice. People who said they eat "more than 85% organic food," on the other hand, had lower levels."

Read more: <https://orgcns.org/3mbUzP3>

US and UK Scientists Engineering Dangerous "Self-Spreading" Viruses

OCA is launching a US and global campaign to ban the lab engineering and weaponization of viruses and other pathogens in order to make them more transmissible and/or virulent. Industry calls this weaponization of pathogens "Gain-of-Function" research. An expose by the UK newspaper, the Independent, of ongoing, reckless research in the US and the UK on "self-spreading" viruses reminds us why we need a global ban on so-called "Gain-of-Function" research. As the Independent writes: "Scientists in the US and Europe are creating "risky" self-spreading viruses in the hope of developing viral vaccines, a new paper has warned. The paper, written by an international team of academics led by King's College London, warns the research could have "irreversible consequences" for the planet."

Read more: <https://orgcns.org/3MgNORF>

Neonic Pesticide Residues Found in Children's Blood, Spinal Fluid, and Urine

Environmental Health Journal reports: "As the most widely used class of insecticides worldwide, neonicotinoids (NN) are ubiquitously found in the environment, wildlife, and foods, and thus of special concern for their impacts on the environment and human health. nAChRs are vital to proper brain organization during the prenatal period and play important roles in various motor, emotional, and cognitive functions. Little is known on children's contamination by NN. In a pilot study we tested the hypothesis that children's cerebro-spinal fluid (CSF) can be contaminated by NN."

Read more: <https://orgcns.org/3zfCFTf>

COVID Vaccines Are Genetically Engineered

The patented COVID-19 experimental "Messenger RNA" (mRNA) "vaccines" by Pfizer and Moderna, as well as the genetically modified DNA vector vaccines by Johnson and Johnson and Astra-Zeneca, are all products of genetic engineering. These so-called "vaccines" (which do not prevent infection or transmission, unlike all previous drugs categorized as "vaccines") were previously considered "gene therapy" drugs, and have been described more recently as "gene transfer" vaccines. But beyond vaccine industry misinformation and mis-categorization, mRNA drugs and genetically modified DNA vector vaccines literally add a new genetically engineered gene to your body, altering the genetic behavior of your DNA, turning your body into a viral spike protein factory. As noted anti-GMO scientists Dr. Michelle Perro and Dr. Stephanie Seneff point out in an editorial on the GMO Science website: "Experimental gene therapy vaccines including both mRNA vaccines and genetically modified DNA vector vaccines are concerning to physicians and scientists."

Read more: <https://orgcns.org/3teViCR>

WRITTEN BY RONNIE CUMMINS AND ALEXIS BADEN-MAYER

• SUBSCRIBE: ORGANICCONSUMERS.ORG/ORGANICBYTES • DONATE: <https://orgcns.org/3K1WPTE> •