

Wake Up, America!

Bait and Switch: Genetically Engineered Gene-Therapy Drugs

It's a tragedy that all of us who knew about the dangers of GMOs, genetically engineered bioweapons, Big Pharma criminality, and the threat of out-of-control corporations and the national security state were not organized into a more powerful, united, and militant resistance several years ago. At the crucial moment when dangerous, experimental gene-therapy drugs were forced onto the market, and injected into the bodies of a fearful and coerced population, under the guise that they were harmless and effective COVID "vaccines," we should have been able to stop them. Unfortunately, we didn't. The major reason we couldn't stop this massive assault on the body politic and our children is because the America we live in today is not really a democracy, but rather an oligarchy, a 21st Century corporate, technocratic, bio-medical, national security state.

How Big Food Corporations Make Us Overweight and Sick

In this 11-minute episode of Breaking Points, James Li details how Big Food companies have systematically lied to consumers about the dangers of sugar-laden, carb-heavy, industrial hyper-processed food, fueling an epidemic of obesity and chronic disease.

Rates of obesity in America have skyrocketed over the past 30 years to the point that 60% of the population are now categorized as obese or overweight. Even though diabetes was considered rare in the 1950s and 60s, a full 10% of Americans are now diagnosed as diabetic.

As Li points out "we are fatter and sicker than any generation in history."

WHO Proposals Could Strip Nations of Their Sovereignty & Create a Global Totalitarian State

Michael Nevradakis of Children's Health Defense reports:

Secretive negotiations took place this week in Geneva, Switzerland, to discuss proposed amendments to the World Health Organization's (WHO) International Health Regulations (IHR), considered a binding instrument of international law.

Similar negotiations took place last month for drafting a new WHO pandemic treaty.

While the two are often conflated, the proposed IHR amendments and the proposed pandemic treaty represent two separate but related sets of proposals that would fundamentally alter the WHO's ability to respond to 'public health emergencies' throughout the world — and, critics warn, significantly strip nations of their sovereignty.

Merchants of Poison: The Front Groups and PR Firms that Bayer and Monsanto Use to Defend Glyphosate

Stacy Malkan of U.S. Right to Know reports:

"Members of a new group called Freedom to Farm have begun appearing at agricultural events and farmers' markets across Europe. Marketing itself as a grassroots effort led by farmers, the group warned of the 'threat to farming' posed by restricting the use of glyphosate. But Freedom to Farm was not the grassroots uprising it purported to be...An 'intelligence report' prepared for Monsanto by the PR firm FleishmanHillard, reveals the scope of the operation: 39.5 full-time equivalent staff from four PR firms were promoting 'Freedom to Farm' in seven countries. And that was not all: 'In addition to the campaign team,' the report noted, '56 trained operatives are supporting the on-site recruiting process for grassroots.'"

Organic Seeds of the Future

John Navazio writes:

"Over the past decade it has become apparent that there's a real need for a comprehensive guide to growing organic vegetable seed. For some time now it has been obvious to dedicated practitioners of organic farming that, to be in harmony with the philosophical underpinnings of organic agriculture, it's important to use seed produced using organic practices.

This same dedication to organic principles is integral to the mind-set of a number of worldwide organic certification agencies' governing bodies, all of which have added an organically grown seed requirement since 2002. Of course such regulations can't be implemented overnight, but the very existence of the rules has dramatically increased the market for, and use of, certified organically grown seed."

The Most Important Topics of Our Time

Dr. Mercola writes:

"At the end of the day, the solutions to all of the crises facing us really hinge on creating a new society. We need a reset, yes, but not The Great Reset advertised by the World Economic Forum and its derelict minions.

No, we need a reset in which the corrupting elements are cut out of the equation, and there's corruption absolutely everywhere. In the school system, our food system, financial system, the stock market, our regulatory agencies, all throughout government and our intelligence agencies. It's all rotten to the core. And we have but two choices: Accept the digital prison system handed down to us from the globalists, or rebuild our own parallel systems, outside of their control."
